with tongues? do all interpret? <sup>31</sup> Covet after the best gifts: And yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

13 Though I speake with the tongues of men, and of Angels, and have not charitie, I am as sounding brasse, or as a tinkling Cymbal. <sup>2</sup> And though I have prophecie, and understand all secrets, and all knowledge: yea, if I have all faith, so that I can remove mountaines, and have not charitie, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup> And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poore, and though I give my body that I should be burned, and have not charitie, it profiteth me nothing. <sup>4</sup> Charitie suffereth long, and is courteous: Charitie envieth not, charity doth not frowardly, swelleth not, <sup>5</sup> Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not evill, <sup>6</sup> Rejoyceth not in iniquitie, but rejoyceth in the trueth: <sup>7</sup> Suffreth all things, beleeveth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. <sup>8</sup> Though that prophecyings faile, either tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away, yet charitie falleth never away. <sup>9</sup> For our knowledge is imperfect, and our prophecying is imperfect: <sup>10</sup> But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is imperfect shalbe done away. <sup>11</sup> When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I understood as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but assoone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse. <sup>12</sup> Now wee see in a glasse, even in a darke speaking: but then shall we see face to face. 13 If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup> And if I have prophetic powers, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup> If I give away all I have, and if I deliver my body to be burned,<sup>v</sup> but have not love, I gain nothing.

<sup>8</sup> Love never ends; as for prophecies, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will pass away. <sup>9</sup> For our knowledge is imperfect and our prophecy is imperfect; <sup>10</sup> but when the perfect comes, the imperfect will pass away. <sup>11</sup> When I was a child, I spoke like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child; when I became a man, I gave up childish ways. <sup>12</sup> For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall understand fully, even as I have me. <sup>9</sup> For I am the least of the apostles, unfit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. <sup>10</sup> But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace toward me was not in vain. On the contrary, I worked harder than any of them, though it was not I, but the grace of God which is with me. <sup>11</sup> Whether then it was I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

14 Make love your aim, and earnestly desire the spiritual gifts, especially that you may prophesy. <sup>2</sup> For one who speaks in a tongue speaks not to men but to God; for no one understands him, but he utters mysteries in the Spirit. <sup>3</sup> On the other hand, he who prophesies speaks to men for their upbuilding and encouragement and consolation. <sup>4</sup> He who speaks in a tongue edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the church. <sup>5</sup> Now I want you all to speak in tongues, but even more to prophesy. He who prophesies is greater than he who speaks in tongues, unless some one interprets, so that the church may be edified.

<sup>12</sup> Now if Christ is preached as raised from the dead, how can some of you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? <sup>13</sup> But if there is no resurrection of the dead, then Christ has not been raised; <sup>14</sup> if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain. <sup>15</sup> We are even found to be misrepresenting God, because we testified of God that he raised Christ, whom he did not raise if it is true that the dead are not raised. <sup>16</sup> For if the dead are not raised, then Christ has not been raised. <sup>17</sup> If Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins. <sup>18</sup> Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. <sup>19</sup> If for this life only we have hoped in Christ, we are of all men most to be pitied.

<sup>20</sup> But in fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep. <sup>21</sup> For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection of the dead. <sup>22</sup> For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ

GREAT BIBLE (1539) 1540

<sup>12</sup> Seyng then that we have soch trust, we use great boldnes, <sup>13</sup> and do not as Moses, which put a vayle over his face, that the chyldren of Israel shuld not se for what purpose that served which is put awaye. <sup>14</sup> But their myndes were blinded. For untill this daye remaineth the same coveringe untaken awaye in the lecture of the olde testament, whych vayle shalbe put awaye in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But even unto this daye when Moses is redde the vayle hangeth before their hertes. <sup>16</sup> Neverthelesse when they tourne to the Lord, the vayle shalbe taken awaye. <sup>17</sup> The Lorde no dout is a sprete. And where the sprete of the Lord is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all beholde in a myrroure the glorye of the Lorde with his face open, and are chaunged unto the same similitude, from glory to glory, even as of the sprete of the Lorde.

4 Therefore, seyng that we have soch an offyce, even as God hath had mercy on us, we go not out of kynde: <sup>2</sup> but have cast from us the clokes of dishonestye, and walke not in craftynes, nether handle we the worde of God disceatfully, but open the trueth, and reporte oure selves to every mannes conscience in the syght of God <sup>3</sup> If oure Gospell be yet hyd, it is hyd amonge them that are lost, <sup>4</sup> in whom the God of this world hath blynded the myndes of them which beleve not, lest the lyght of the gospell of the glory of Christ whych is the ymage of God) shulde shyne unto them.

is glorious. <sup>12</sup> Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech: <sup>13</sup> and not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished: <sup>14</sup> but their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart. <sup>16</sup> Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. <sup>18</sup> But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not; <sup>2</sup> but have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost: <sup>4</sup> in whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the much more shal that which remaineth, be glorious. <sup>12</sup> Seeing then that we have such trust, we use great boldenes of speache. <sup>13</sup> And (we are) not as Moses, (which) put a vaile upon his face, that the children of Israel shulde not looke unto the end of that which shulde be abolished. <sup>14</sup> Therefore their mindes are hardened: for until this day remaineth the same covering untaken away in the reading of the Olde testament, which (vaile) in Christ is put away. <sup>15</sup> But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vaile is layed over their hearts. <sup>16</sup> Nevertheles when their (heart) shalbe turned to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord (is,) libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all beholde as in a mirrour the glorie of the Lord with open face, and are changed into the same image, from glorie to glorie, as by the Spirit of the Lord.

4 Therefore, seeing that we have this ministerie, as we have received mercie we fainte not: <sup>2</sup> But have cast from us the clokes of shame and walke not in craftines, nether handle we the worde of God deceitfully: but in declaration of the trueth we approve our selves to everie mans conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> If our Gospel be then hid, it is hid to them, that are lost. <sup>4</sup> In whome the god of this worlde hath blinded the mindes, (that is,) of the infideles, that the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ, which is the image of God, shulde not shine unto

(RV 1881) ASV 1901

<sup>12</sup> Having therefore such a hope, we use great boldness of speech, <sup>13</sup> and are not as Moses, who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly on the end of that which was passing away: <sup>14</sup> but their minds were hardened: for until this very day at the reading of the old covenant the same veil remaineth, it not being revealed to them that it is done away in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. <sup>16</sup> But whensoever it shall turn to the Lord, the veil is taken away. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. <sup>18</sup> But we all, with unveiled face beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from the Lord the Spirit.

4 Therefore seeing we have this ministry, even as we obtained mercy, we faint not: <sup>2</sup> but we have renounced the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but by the manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled in them that perish: <sup>4</sup> in whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not dawn upon them.

BISHOPS' BIBLE (1568) 1602

remaineth, is glorious. <sup>12</sup> Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great boldnesse of speech: <sup>13</sup> And not as Moyses, which put a vaile over his face, that the children of Israel should not stedfastly looke unto the end of that which is abolished. <sup>14</sup> But their mindes were blinded: for untill this day remaineth the same vaile untaken away in the reading of the Olde testament, which vaile is put away in Christ. <sup>15</sup> But even unto this day when Moyses is read, the vaile is layd upon their heart. <sup>16</sup> Neverthelesse, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away. <sup>17</sup> The Lorde is the spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie. <sup>18</sup> But we all beholding as in a mirrour, the glory of the Lord, with his face open, are changed unto the same image from glory to glory, even as of the spirit of the Lord.

4 Therefore seeing that we have such a ministerie, as we have received mercie, we faint not: <sup>2</sup> But have cast from us the clokes of dishonestie, walking not in craftinesse, neither handling the word of God deceitfully, but in opening of the trueth, commending our selves to every mans conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> If our Gospel be hid, it is hid in them that are lost: <sup>4</sup> In whom the God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeve not, lest the light of the Gospel of the glory of Christ should shine unto them, (which is the image of God.)

RSV (1946) 1960

<sup>12</sup> Since we have such a hope, we are very bold, <sup>13</sup> not like Moses, who put a veil over his face so that the Israelites might not see the end of the fading splendor. <sup>14</sup> But their minds were hardened; for to this day, when they read the old covenant, that same veil remains unlifted, because only through Christ is it taken away. <sup>15</sup> Yes, to this day whenever Moses is read a veil lies over their minds; <sup>16</sup> but when a man turns to the Lord the veil is removed. <sup>17</sup> Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. <sup>18</sup> And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being changed into his likeness from one degree of glory to another; for this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit.

4 Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God, we do not lose heart. <sup>2</sup> We have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways; we refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. <sup>3</sup> And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled only to those who are perishing. <sup>4</sup> In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the likeness of God.

5 For we know that if the earthly house of our tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. <sup>2</sup> For verily in this we groan, longing to be clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: <sup>3</sup> if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. <sup>4</sup> For indeed we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened; not for that we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal may be swallowed up of life. <sup>5</sup> Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. <sup>6</sup> Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord <sup>7</sup> (for we walk by faith, not by sight); <sup>8</sup> we are of good courage, I say, and are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord. <sup>9</sup> Wherefore also we make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be well-pleasing unto him. <sup>10</sup> For we must all be made manifest before the judgment-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

BISHOPS' BIBLE (1568) 1602

<sup>17</sup> For the momentany lightnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternal weight of glory unto us: <sup>18</sup> While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

5 For wee know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were destroyed, we have a building of God, even an habitation not made with handes, but eternal in heaven. <sup>2</sup> For therfore sigh we, desiring upon our clothing to be further clothed with our house which is from heaven. <sup>3</sup> If so be that we being clothed, shall not be found naked. <sup>4</sup> For we that are in this tabernacle, sigh, beeing burdened, because wee would not put off our clothing, but upon the same put on more, that mortalitie might bee swallowed up of life. <sup>5</sup> He that hath ordeined us for the selfe same thing, is God, which hath also given unto us the earnest of the spirit. <sup>6</sup> Therefore wee are alway of good cheare, and know that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord. <sup>7</sup> (For we walke by faith, not after outward appearance.) <sup>8</sup> Nevertheles, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the bodie, and to be present with the Lord. <sup>9</sup> Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeavour our selves to be accepted unto him. <sup>10</sup> For we must all appeare before the judgement seat of Christ, that every man may receive the works of his body, according to that he hath done, whether day. <sup>17</sup> For this slight momentary affliction is preparing for us an eternal weight of glory beyond all comparison, <sup>18</sup> because we look not to the things that are seen but to the things that are unseen; for the things that are seen are transient, but the things that are unseen are eternal.

5 For we know that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. <sup>2</sup> Here indeed we groan, and long to put on our heavenly dwelling, <sup>3</sup> so that by putting it on we may not be found naked. <sup>4</sup> For while we are still in this tent, we sigh with anxiety; not that we would be unclothed, but that we would be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. <sup>5</sup> He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee.

<sup>6</sup> So we are always of good courage; we know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord, <sup>7</sup> for we walk by faith, not by sight. <sup>8</sup> We are of good courage, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. <sup>9</sup> So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please him. <sup>10</sup> For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each one may receive good or evil, according to what he has done in the body.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore, knowing the fear of the Lord, we persuade men; but what we are is known to God, and I hope it is known also to your conscience. <sup>12</sup> We are not commending ourselves to you again but giving you cause to be proud of us, so that you may be able to answer those who pride themselves on a man's position and not on his heart. <sup>13</sup> For if we are beside ourselves, it is for God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. <sup>14</sup> For the love of Christ controls us, because we are convinced that one has died for all; therefore all have died. <sup>15</sup> And he died for all, that those who live might live no longer for themselves but for him who for their sake died and was raised.

Behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation. <sup>3</sup>We put no obstacle in any one's way, so that no fault may be found with our ministry, <sup>4</sup>but as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: through great endurance, in afflictions, hardships, calamities, <sup>5</sup>beatings, imprisonments, tumults, labors, watching, hunger; <sup>6</sup>by purity, knowledge, forbearance, kindness, the Holy Spirit, genuine love, <sup>7</sup>truthful speech, and the power of God; with the weapons of righteousness for the right hand and for the left; <sup>8</sup>in honor and dishonor, in ill repute and good repute. We are treated as impostors, and yet are true; <sup>9</sup>as unknown, and yet well known; as dying, and behold we live; as punished, and yet not killed; <sup>10</sup>as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing everything.

<sup>11</sup>Our mouth is open to you, Corinthians; our heart is wide. <sup>12</sup>You are not restricted by us, but you are restricted in your own affections. <sup>13</sup>In return—I speak as to children—widen your hearts also.

8 Moreover, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia; <sup>2</sup> how that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. <sup>3</sup> For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves; <sup>4</sup> praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints. <sup>5</sup> And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God. <sup>6</sup> Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

unto you. <sup>13</sup> Therefore we were comforted, because ye were comforted: but rather we rejoyced muche more for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup> For if that I have boasted anie thing to him of you, I have not bene ashamed: but as I have spoken unto you all things in trueth, even so our boasting unto Titus was true. <sup>15</sup> And his inwarde affection is more abundant towarde you, when he remembreth the obedience of you all, (and) how with feare and trembling ye received him. <sup>16</sup> I rejoyce (therefore) that I may put my confidence in you in all things.

8 We do you also to wit, brethren, of the grace of God bestowed upon the Churches of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> Because in great tryal of affliction their joye abounded, and their moste extreme povertie abounded unto their riche liberalitie. <sup>3</sup> For to (their) power [I beare recorde] yea, and beyonde their power, they were willing, <sup>4</sup> And prayed us with great instance that we wold receive the grace, and felowship of the ministring which is towarde the Saintes <sup>5</sup> And (this they did,) not as we loked for: but gave their owne selves, first to the Lord, and (after) unto us by the wil of God, <sup>6</sup> That we shulde exhorte Titus, that as he had begonne, so he wolde also accomplish the same grace among you also.

you in the sight of God. <sup>13</sup> Therefore we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit hath been refreshed by you all. <sup>14</sup> For if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you in truth, so our glorying also which I made before Titus was found to be truth. <sup>15</sup> And his affection is more abundantly toward you, while he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. <sup>16</sup> I rejoice that in everything I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been given in the churches of Macedonia; <sup>2</sup> how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality. <sup>3</sup> For according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, <sup>4</sup> beseeching us with much entreaty in regard of this grace and the fellowship in the ministering to the saints: <sup>5</sup> and this, not as we had hoped, but first they gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us through the will of God. <sup>6</sup> Insomuch that we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would

8 Moreover, we doe you to wit, brethren, of the grace of God, which was given in the Churches of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> How that in much triall of affliction their joy abounded, and their deepe povertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie. <sup>3</sup> For to their powers (I beare them record) yea and beyond their powers, they were willing of themselves: <sup>4</sup> Praying us with great instance, that we would receive this grace and societie of the ministerie which is toward the Saints. <sup>5</sup> And this they did not as we looked for: but gave their owne selves first to the Lord, and after unto us by the will of God, <sup>6</sup> That wee should desire Titus to accomplish the grace among you also, even as revealed to you in the sight of God. <sup>13</sup> Therefore we are comforted.

And besides our own comfort we rejoiced still more at the joy of Titus, because his mind has been set at rest by you all. <sup>14</sup> For if I have expressed to him some pride in you, I was not put to shame; but just as everything we said to you was true, so our boasting before Titus has proved true. <sup>15</sup> And his heart goes out all the more to you, as he remembers the obedience of you all, and the fear and trembling with which you received him. <sup>16</sup> I rejoice, because I have perfect confidence in you.

8 We want you to know, brethren, about the grace of God which has been shown in the churches of Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> for in a severe test of affliction, their abundance of joy and their extreme poverty have overflowed in a wealth of liberality on their part. <sup>3</sup> For they gave according to their means, as I can testify, and beyond their means, of their own free will, <sup>4</sup> begging us earnestly for the favor of taking part in the relief of the saints—<sup>5</sup> and this, not as we expected, but first they gave themselves to the Lord and to us by the will of God. <sup>6</sup> Accordingly we have urged Titus that as he had already made a beginning, he should

and not for destroying you, I shall not be put to shame. <sup>9</sup> I would not seem to be frightening you with letters. <sup>10</sup> For they say, "His letters are weighty and strong, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech of no account." <sup>11</sup> Let such people understand that what we say by letter when absent, we do when present. <sup>12</sup> Not that we venture to class or compare ourselves with some of those who commend themselves. But when they measure themselves by one another, and compare themselves with one another, they are without understanding.

<sup>13</sup> But we will not boast beyond limit, but will keep to the limits God has apportioned us, to reach even to you. <sup>14</sup> For we are not overextending ourselves, as though we did not reach you; we were the first to come all the way to you with the gospel of Christ. <sup>15</sup> We do not boast beyond limit, in other men's labors; but our hope is that as your faith increases, our field among you may be greatly enlarged, <sup>16</sup> so that we may preach the gospel in lands beyond you, without boasting of work already done in another's field. <sup>17</sup> "Let him who boasts, boast of the Lord." <sup>18</sup> For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends.

<sup>12</sup> And what I do I will continue to do, in order to undermine the claim of those who would like to claim that in their boasted mission they work on the same terms as we do. <sup>13</sup> For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, disguising themselves as apostles of Christ. <sup>14</sup> And no wonder, for even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. <sup>15</sup> So it is not strange if his servants also disguise themselves as servants of righteousness. Their end will correspond to their deeds.

<sup>16</sup> I repeat, let no one think me foolish; but even if you do, accept me as a fool, so that I too may boast a little. <sup>17</sup> (What I am saying I say not with the Lord's authority but as a fool, in this boastful confidence; <sup>18</sup> since many boast of worldly things, I too will boast.) <sup>19</sup> For you gladly bear with fools, being wise yourselves! <sup>20</sup> For you bear it if a man makes slaves of you, or preys upon you, or takes advantage of you, or puts on airs, or strikes you in the face. <sup>21</sup> To my shame, I must say, we were too weak for that!

But whatever any one dares to boast of—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast of that. <sup>22</sup> Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they descendants of Abraham? ## RHEIMS 1582

13 Lo this the third time I come unto you: In the mouth of two or three witnesses shal every word stand. <sup>2</sup>I foretold and doe foretel as present, and now absent, to them that sinned before, and all the rest, that if I come againe, I wil not spare. <sup>3</sup>Seeke you an experiment of him that speaketh in me, Christ: who in you is not weake, but is mightie in you? <sup>4</sup>For although he was crucified of infirmitie: yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weake in him: but we shal live with him by the power of God on you. <sup>5</sup>Trie your owne selves if you be in the faith: prove ye your selves. Know you not your selves that Christ Jesus is in you, unlesse perhaps you be reprobates. <sup>6</sup>But I hope you know that we are not reprobates. <sup>7</sup>And we pray God, that you doe no evil, not that we may appeare approved, but that you may doe that which is good, and we be as reprobates. <sup>8</sup>For we can not any thing against the truth: but for the truth. <sup>9</sup>For we rejoyce, for that we are weake, and you are mightie. This also we pray for, your consummation. <sup>10</sup>Therefore these things I write absent: that being present I may not deale hardly according to the power which our Lord hath given me unto edification and not unto destruction.

13 This is the third time I am coming to you. Any charge must be sustained by the evidence of two or three witnesses. <sup>2</sup>I warned those who sinned before and all the others, and I warn them now while absent, as I did when present on my second visit, that if I come again I will not spare them—<sup>3</sup>since you desire proof that Christ is speaking in me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful in you. <sup>4</sup>For he was crucified in weakness, but lives by the power of God. For we are weak in him, but in dealing with you we shall live with him by the power of God.

<sup>5</sup>Examine yourselves, to see whether you are holding to your faith. Test yourselves. Do you not realize that Jesus Christ is in you?—unless indeed you fail to meet the test! <sup>6</sup>I hope you will find out that we have not failed. <sup>7</sup>But we pray God that you may not do wrong—not that we may appear to have met the test, but that you may do what is right, though we may seem to have failed. <sup>8</sup>For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. <sup>9</sup>For we are glad when we are weak and you are strong. What we pray for is your improvement. <sup>10</sup>I write this while I am away from you, in order that when I come I may not have to be severe in my use of the authority which the Lord has given me for building up and not for tearing down.

<sup>10</sup> For all who rely on works of the law are under a curse; for it is written, "Cursed be every one who does not abide by all things written in the book of the law, and do them."

<sup>11</sup> Now it is evident that no man is justified before God by the law; for "He who through faith is righteous shall live"; <sup>12</sup> but the law does not rest on faith, for "He who does them shall live by them." <sup>13</sup> Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us—for it is written, "Cursed be every one who hangs on a tree"—<sup>14</sup> that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might come upon the Gentiles, that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

<sup>15</sup> To give a human example, brethren: no one annuls even a man's will, or adds to it, once it has been ratified.

<sup>16</sup> Now the promises were made to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say, "And to offsprings," referring to many; but, referring to one, "And to your offspring," which is Christ. <sup>17</sup> This is what I mean: the law, which came four hundred and thirty years afterward, does not annul a covenant previously ratified by God, so as to make the promise void. <sup>18</sup> For if the inheritance is by the law, it is no longer by promise; but God gave it to Abraham by a promise.

"Cast out the slave and her son; for the son of the slave shall not inherit with the son of the free woman." <sup>31</sup> So, brethren, we are not children of the slave but of the free woman.

5 For freedom Christ has set us free; stand fast therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery.

<sup>2</sup> Now I, Paul, say to you that if you receive circumcision, Christ will be of no advantage to you. <sup>3</sup> I testify again to every man who receives circumcision that he is bound to keep the whole law. <sup>4</sup> You are severed from Christ, you who would be justified by the law; you have fallen away from grace. <sup>5</sup> For through the Spirit, by faith, we wait for the hope of righteousness. <sup>6</sup> For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision is of any avail, but faith working through love. <sup>7</sup> You were running well; who hindered you from obeying the truth? <sup>8</sup> This persuasion is not from him who called you. <sup>9</sup> A little leaven leavens the whole lump. <sup>10</sup> I have confidence in the Lord that you will take no other view than mine; and he who is troubling you will bear his judgment, whoever he is. <sup>11</sup> But if I, brethren, still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? 6 Brethren, if a man is overtaken in any trespass, you who are spiritual should restore him in a spirit of gentleness. Look to yourself, lest you too be tempted. <sup>2</sup> Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. <sup>3</sup> For if any one thinks he is something, when he is nothing, he deceives himself. <sup>4</sup> But let each one test his own work, and then his reason to boast will be in himself alone and not in his neighbor. <sup>5</sup> For each man will have to bear his own load.

<sup>7</sup> Do not be deceived; God is not mocked, for whatever a man sows, that he will also reap. <sup>8</sup> For he who sows to his own flesh will from the flesh reap corruption; but he who sows to the Spirit will from the Spirit reap eternal life. <sup>9</sup> And let us not grow weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we do not lose heart. <sup>10</sup> So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all men, and especially to those who are of the household of faith.

<sup>11</sup> See with what large letters I am writing to you with my own hand. <sup>12</sup> It is those who want to make a good showing in the flesh that would compel you to be circumcised, and only in order that they may not be persecuted for the cross of Christ. <sup>13</sup> For even those who receive circumcision do not themselves keep the law, but they desire to have you

3 For this reason I, Paul, a prisoner for Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles—<sup>2</sup>assuming that you have heard of the stewardship of God's grace that was given to me for you, <sup>3</sup>how the mystery was made known to me by revelation, as I have written briefly. <sup>4</sup>When you read this you can perceive my insight into the mystery of Christ, <sup>5</sup>which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as it has now been revealed to his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit; <sup>6</sup>that is, how the Gentiles are fellow heirs, members of the same body, and partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel.

<sup>7</sup>Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace which was given me by the working of his power. <sup>8</sup>To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, <sup>9</sup>and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; <sup>10</sup>that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places. <sup>11</sup>This was according to the eternal purpose which he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, <sup>12</sup>in whom we have boldness and confidence of access through our faith in him. <sup>13</sup>So I ask you not to lose heart over what I am suffering for you, which is your glory.

<sup>3</sup> But immorality and all impurity or covetousness must not even be named among you, as is fitting among saints. <sup>4</sup> Let there be no filthiness, nor silly talk, nor levity, which are not fitting; but instead let there be thanksgiving. <sup>5</sup> Be sure of this, that no immoral or impure man, or one who is covetous (that is, an idolater), has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. <sup>6</sup> Let no one deceive you with empty words, for it is because of these things that the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. <sup>7</sup> Therefore do not associate with them, <sup>8</sup> for once you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord; walk as children of light <sup>9</sup> (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), <sup>10</sup> and try to learn what is pleasing to the Lord. <sup>11</sup> Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. <sup>12</sup> For it is a shame even to speak of the things that they do in secret; <sup>13</sup> but when anything is exposed by the light it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. <sup>14</sup> Therefore it is said, "Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give you light."

1 Paul, Silvanus, and Timothy,
To the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:
Grace to you and peace.

<sup>2</sup>We give thanks to God always for you all, constantly mentioning you in our prayers, <sup>3</sup>remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ. <sup>4</sup>For we know, brethren beloved by God, that he has chosen you; <sup>5</sup>for our gospel came to you not only in word, but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with full conviction. You know what kind of men we proved to be among you for your sake. <sup>6</sup>And you became imitators of us and of the Lord, for you received the word in much affliction, with joy inspired by the Holy Spirit; <sup>7</sup>so that you became an example to all the believers in Macedonia and in Achaia. <sup>8</sup>For not only has the word of the Lord sounded forth from you in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith in God has gone forth everywhere, so that we need not say anything. <sup>9</sup>For they themselves report concerning us what a welcome we had among you, and how you turned to God from idols, to serve a living and true God, <sup>10</sup>and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, Jesus who delivers us from the wrath to come.

we exhort you, brethren, to do so more and more, <sup>11</sup> to aspire to live quietly, to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands, as we charged you; <sup>12</sup> so that you may command the respect of outsiders, and be dependent on nobody.

<sup>13</sup> But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning those who are asleep, that you may not grieve as others do who have no hope. <sup>14</sup> For since we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so, through Jesus, God will bring with him those who have fallen asleep. <sup>15</sup> For this we declare to you by the word of the Lord, that we who are alive, who are left until the coming of the Lord, shall not precede those who have fallen asleep. <sup>16</sup> For the Lord himself will descend from heaven with a cry of command, with the archangel's call, and with the sound of the trumpet of God. 1 Paul an Apostle of Jesus Christ according to the commaundement of God our saviour, and of Christ Jesus our hope: 2 to Timothee his beloved sonne in the faith. Grace, mercie, and peace from God the father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 As I desired thee to remaine at Ephesus when I went into Macedonia, that thou shouldest denounce to certaine not to teache otherwise, 4 nor to attend to fables and genealogies having no ende: which minister questions rather then the edifying of God which is in faith. 5 But the ende of the precept is charitie from a pure hart, and a good conscience, and a faith not feined. 6 From the which things certaine straying, are turned into vaine talke, 7 desirous to be doctors of the Law, not understanding neither what things they speake, nor of what they affirme. 8 But we know that the Law is good, if a man use it lawfully: 9 knowing this that the Law is not made to the just man, but to the unjust, and disobedient, to the impious and sinners, to the wicked and contaminate, to killers of fathers and killers of mothers, to murderers, 10 to fornicatours, to lyars with mankinde, to man-stealers, to liars, to perjured persons, and what other thing soever is contrarie to sound doctrine, 11 which is according to the Gospel of the glorie of the blessed God, which is committed to me.

6 Let as many servants as are under the yoke counte their masters worthie of al honour, that the Name of God, and (his) doctrine be not evil spoken of. <sup>2</sup> And they whiche have beleving masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do service, because thei are faithful, and beloved, and partakers of the benefite. These things teache and exhorte. <sup>3</sup> If any man teach other wise, and consenteth not to the wholesome wordes of our Lorde Jesus Christe, and to the doctrine, whiche is accordyng to godlines. <sup>4</sup> He is pufte up and knoweth nothyng, but doteth about questions and strife of wordes, whereof cometh envie, strife, railings, evil surmisings. <sup>5</sup> Vaine disputations of men of corrupt mindes, and destitute of the trueth, which thinke that gaine is godlines: from suche separate thy self. <sup>6</sup> But godlines is great gaine, if a man be content with that he hath. <sup>7</sup> For we brought nothing into the worlde, (and) it is certeine, that we can carie nothing out. <sup>8</sup> Therefore when we have fode and raiment let us therewith be content. <sup>9</sup> For they that will be riche, fall into tentation and snares, and into many foolish and noysome lustes, whiche drowne men in perdition and destruction. <sup>10</sup> For the desire of money is the roote of all evil, whiche while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and perced them selves through with many sorowes. <sup>11</sup> But thou, o man of God, flee these thyngs, and followe after righteousnes,

6 Let as many as are servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honor, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. <sup>2</sup> And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. These things teach and exhort.

<sup>3</sup> If any man teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; <sup>4</sup> he is puffed up, knowing nothing, but doting about questionings and disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, <sup>5</sup> wranglings of men corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, supposing that godliness is a way of gain. <sup>6</sup> But godliness with contentment is great gain: <sup>7</sup> for we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; <sup>8</sup> but having food and covering we shall be therewith content. <sup>9</sup> But they that are minded to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. <sup>10</sup> For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

BISHOPS' BIBLE (1568) 1602

6 Let as many servants as are under the yoke, count their masters worthy of all honour, that the Name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed. <sup>2</sup> And they which have beleiving masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather let them do service, for as much as they are beleiving and beloved, and partakers of the benefit: These things teach and exhort. <sup>3</sup> If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not unto the wholesome words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godlinesse: <sup>4</sup> He is puffed up, knowing nothing, but doting about questions, and strifes of wordes, whereof commeth envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, <sup>5</sup> Vaine disputations of men of corrupt mindes, destitute of the trueth, thinking lucre to be godlinesse: From such be thou separate. <sup>6</sup> Godlinesse is great lucre, if a man be content with that he hath. <sup>7</sup> For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine that wee may cary nought away. <sup>8</sup> But having foode and rayment, wee must therewith be content. <sup>9</sup> For they that will be rich, fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish and noisome lustes, which drowne men in perdition and destruction. <sup>10</sup> For love of money is the roote of all evill, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorowes. <sup>11</sup> But thou, O man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteous-

6 Let all who are under the yoke of slavery regard their masters as worthy of all honor, so that the name of God and the teaching may not be defamed. <sup>2</sup> Those who have believing masters must not be disrespectful on the ground that they are brethren; rather they must serve all the better since those who benefit by their service are believers and beloved.

Teach and urge these duties. <sup>3</sup> If any one teaches otherwise and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching which accords with godliness, <sup>4</sup> he is puffed up with conceit, he knows nothing; he has a morbid craving for controversy and for disputes about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, base suspicions, <sup>5</sup> and wrangling among men who are depraved in mind and bereft of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. <sup>6</sup> There is great gain in godliness with contentment; <sup>7</sup> for we brought nothing into the world, and <sup>8</sup> we cannot take anything out of the world; <sup>9</sup> but if we have food and clothing, with these we shall be content. <sup>10</sup> But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and hurtful desires that plunge men into ruin and destruction. <sup>11</sup> For the love of money is the root of all evils; it is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced their hearts with many pains.

<sup>11</sup> But as for you, man of God, shun all this; aim at righteousness, godliness, faith, love, steadfastness, gentlegrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, <sup>18</sup> who have swerved from the truth by holding that the resurrection is past already. They are upsetting the faith of some. <sup>19</sup> But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Let every one who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity."

<sup>20</sup> In a great house there are not only vessels of gold and silver but also of wood and earthenware, and some for noble use, some for ignoble. <sup>21</sup> If any one purifies himself from what is ignoble, then he will be a vessel for noble use, consecrated and useful to the master of the house, ready for any good work. <sup>22</sup> So shun youthful passions and aim at righteousness, faith, love, and peace, along with those who call upon the Lord from a pure heart. <sup>23</sup> Have nothing to do with stupid, senseless controversies; you know that they breed quarrels. <sup>24</sup> And the Lord's servant must not be quarrelsome but kindly to every one, an apt teacher, forbearing, <sup>25</sup> correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant that they will repent and come to know the truth, <sup>26</sup> and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will.

through faith in Christ Jesus. <sup>16</sup> All scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, <sup>17</sup> that the man of God may be complete, equipped for every good work.

4 I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus who is to judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom: <sup>2</sup> preach the word, be urgent in season and out of season, convince, rebuke, and exhort, be unfailing in patience and in teaching. <sup>3</sup> For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own likings, <sup>4</sup> and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander into myths. <sup>5</sup> As for you, always be steady, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil your ministry.

<sup>6</sup> For I am already on the point of being sacrificed; the time of my departure has come. <sup>7</sup> I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. <sup>8</sup> Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, will award to me on that Day, and not only to me but also to all who have loved his appearing.

hateful, hating one another. <sup>4</sup> But when the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love toward man, appeared, <sup>5</sup> not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but according to his mercy he saved us, through the washing of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit, <sup>6</sup> which he poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; <sup>7</sup> that, being justified by his grace, we might be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. <sup>8</sup> Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I desire that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they who have believed God may be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men: <sup>9</sup> but shun foolish questionings, and genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain. <sup>10</sup> A factious man after a first and second admonition refuse; <sup>11</sup> knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned.

<sup>12</sup> When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, give diligence to come unto me to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter. <sup>13</sup> Set forward Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. <sup>14</sup> And let our people also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.

one another; <sup>4</sup> but when the goodness and loving kindness of God our Savior appeared, <sup>5</sup> he saved us, not because of deeds done by us in righteousness, but in virtue of his own mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewal in the Holy Spirit, <sup>6</sup> which he poured out upon us richly through Jesus Christ our Savior, <sup>7</sup> so that we might be justified by his grace and become heirs in hope of eternal life. <sup>8</sup> The saying is sure.

I desire you to insist on these things, so that those who have believed in God may be careful to apply themselves to good deeds; these are excellent and profitable to men. <sup>9</sup> But avoid stupid controversies, genealogies, dissensions, and quarrels over the law, for they are unprofitable and futile. <sup>10</sup> As for a man who is factious, after admonishing him once or twice, have nothing more to do with him, <sup>11</sup> knowing that such a person is perverted and sinful; he is self-condemned.

<sup>12</sup> When I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to me at Nicopolis, for I have decided to spend the winter there. <sup>13</sup> Do your best to speed Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way; see that they lack nothing. <sup>14</sup> And let our people learn to apply themselves to good deeds, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not to be unfruitful.

<sup>15</sup> All who are with me send greetings to you. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

1 In many and various ways God spoke of old to our fathers by the prophets; <sup>2</sup>but in these last days he has spoken to us by a Son, whom he appointed the heir of all things, through whom also he created the world. <sup>3</sup>He reflects the glory of God and bears the very stamp of his nature, upholding the universe by his word of power. When he had made purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on high, <sup>4</sup>having become as much superior to angels as the name he has obtained is more excellent than theirs.

<sup>5</sup>For to what angel did God ever say,

"Thou art my Son,

today I have begotten thee"?

Or again,

"I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son"?

<sup>6</sup>And again, when he brings the first-born into the world, he says,

"Let all God's angels worship him."

<sup>7</sup>Of the angels he says,

"Who makes his angels winds,

Now in putting everything in subjection to him, he left nothing outside his control. As it is, we do not yet see everything in subjection to him. <sup>9</sup> But we see Jesus, who for a little while was made lower than the angels, crowned with glory and honor because of the suffering of death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for every one.

<sup>10</sup> For it was fitting that he, for whom and by whom all things exist, in bringing many sons to glory, should make the pioneer of their salvation perfect through suffering. <sup>11</sup> For he who sanctifies and those who are sanctified have all one origin. That is why he is not ashamed to call them brethren, <sup>12</sup> saying,

4 Therefore, while the promise of entering his rest remains, let us fear lest any of you be judged to have failed to reach it. <sup>2</sup> For good news came to us just as to them; but the message which they heard did not benefit them, because it did not meet with faith in the hearers.<sup>a</sup>

<sup>3</sup> For we who have believed enter that rest, as he has said,

"As I swore in my wrath,

"They shall never enter my rest,"

although his works were finished from the foundation of the world. <sup>4</sup> For he has somewhere spoken of the seventh day in this way, "And God rested on the seventh day from all his works."<sup>5</sup> And again in this place he said,

"They shall never enter my rest."

<sup>6</sup> Since therefore it remains for some to enter it, and those who formerly received the good news failed to enter because of disobedience, <sup>7</sup> again he sets a certain day, "Today," saying through David so long afterward, in the words already quoted,

"Today, when you hear his voice,

"Thou art a priest for ever,
after the order of Melchizedek."

<sup>7</sup> In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications, with loud cries and tears, to him who was able to save him from death, and he was heard for his godly fear. <sup>8</sup> Although he was a Son, he learned obedience through what he suffered; <sup>9</sup> and being made perfect he became the source of eternal salvation to all who obey him, <sup>10</sup> being designated by God a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.

<sup>11</sup> About this we have much to say which is hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. <sup>12</sup> For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need some one to teach you again the first principles of God's word. You need milk, not solid food; <sup>13</sup> for every one who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, you still do. <sup>11</sup> And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness in realizing the full assurance of hope until the end, <sup>12</sup> so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

<sup>13</sup> For when God made a promise to Abraham, since he had no one greater by whom to swear, he swore by himself, <sup>14</sup> saying, "Surely I will bless you and multiply you." <sup>15</sup> And thus Abraham, having patiently endured, obtained the promise. <sup>16</sup> Men indeed swear by a greater than themselves, and in all their disputes an oath is final for confirmation. <sup>17</sup> So when God desired to show more convincingly to the heirs of the promise the unchangeable character of his purpose, he interposed with an oath, <sup>18</sup> so that through two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible that God should prove false, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to seize the hope set before us. <sup>19</sup> We have this as a sure and steadfast anchor of the soul, a hope that enters into the inner shrine behind the curtain, <sup>20</sup> where Jesus has gone as a forerunner on our behalf, having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

then he is also king of Salem, that is, king of peace. <sup>3</sup> He is without father or mother or genealogy, and has neither beginning of days nor end of life, but resembling the Son of God he continues a priest for ever.

<sup>4</sup> See how great he is! Abraham the patriarch gave him a tithe of the spoils. <sup>5</sup> And those descendants of Levi who receive the priestly office have a commandment in the law to take tithes from the people, that is, from their brethren, though these also are descended from Abraham. <sup>6</sup> But this man who has not their genealogy received tithes from Abraham and blessed him who had the promises. <sup>7</sup> It is beyond dispute that the inferior is blessed by the superior. <sup>8</sup> Here tithes are received by mortal men; there, by one of whom it is testified that he lives. <sup>9</sup> One might even say that Levi himself, who receives tithes, paid tithes through Abraham, <sup>10</sup> for he was still in the loins of his ancestor when Melchizedek met him.

no one has ever served at the altar. <sup>14</sup> For it is evident that our Lord was descended from Judah, and in connection with that tribe Moses said nothing about priests.

<sup>15</sup> This becomes even more evident when another priest arises in the likeness of Melchizedek, <sup>16</sup> who has become a priest, not according to a legal requirement concerning bodily descent but by the power of an indestructible life.

<sup>17</sup> For it is witnessed of him,

"Thou art a priest for ever,
after the order of Melchizedek."

<sup>18</sup> On the one hand, a former commandment is set aside because of its weakness and uselessness <sup>19</sup> (for the law made nothing perfect); on the other hand, a better hope is introduced, through which we draw near to God.

<sup>20</sup> And it was not without an oath. <sup>21</sup> Those who formerly became priests took their office without an oath, but this one was addressed with an oath,

"The Lord has sworn and will not change his mind,

<sup>23</sup> The former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office; <sup>24</sup> but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues for ever. <sup>25</sup> Consequently he is able for all time to save those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them.

<sup>26</sup> For such a high priest became us, holy, guileless, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens; <sup>27</sup> who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once for all, when he offered up himself. <sup>28</sup> For the law appointeth men high priests, having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, perfected for evermore.

8 Now in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, <sup>2</sup> a minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, not man. <sup>3</sup> For every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. <sup>4</sup> Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law; <sup>5</sup> who serve that which is a copy and shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was showed thee in the mount. <sup>6</sup> But now hath he obtained a ministry the more excellent, by so much as he is also the mediator of a better covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. <sup>7</sup> For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been make intercession for them. <sup>26</sup> For such an high Priest became us, which is holy, harmelesse, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then heavens. <sup>27</sup> Which needeth not dayly, as those high Priestess, to offer up sacrifice, first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did hee once, when he offered up himselfe. <sup>28</sup> For the Lawe maketh men high Priestess which have infirmitie, but the word of the othe which was after the Lawe maketh the Sonne, which is perfect for evermore.

8 But of the things which we have spoken, this is the summe: Wee have such an high Priest, that sitteth on the right hande of the throne of the Majestie in the heavens, <sup>2</sup> A minister of holy things, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pight, and not man. <sup>3</sup> For every high Priest is ordeined to offer gifts and sacrifices: Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man have somewhat also to offer. <sup>4</sup> For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing that there are Priestess, that according to the Law offer gifts, <sup>5</sup> Who serve unto the example and shadowe of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finish the Tabernacle: For see, saith hee, that thou make all things according to the paterne shewed to thee in the Mount. <sup>6</sup> But now hath hee obtained a more excellent office, by howe much also hee is the mediatour of a better Covenant, which was confirmed in better promises. <sup>7</sup> For if that first covenant had bene faultlesse, then

<sup>26</sup> For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, blameless, unstained, separated from sinners, exalted above the heavens. <sup>27</sup> He has no need, like those high priests, to offer sacrifices daily, first for his own sins and then for those of the people; he did this once for all when he offered up himself. <sup>28</sup> Indeed, the law appoints men in their weakness as high priests, but the word of the oath, which came later than the law, appoints a Son who has been made perfect for ever.

8 Now the point in what we are saying is this: we have such a high priest, one who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven, <sup>2</sup> a minister in the sanctuary and the true tent which is set up not by man but by the Lord. <sup>3</sup> For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices; hence it is necessary for this priest also to have something to offer. <sup>4</sup> Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, since there are priests who offer gifts according to the law. <sup>5</sup> They serve a copy and shadow of the heavenly sanctuary; for when Moses was about to erect the tent, he was instructed by God, saying, "See that you make everything according to the pattern which was shown you on the mountain." <sup>6</sup> But as it is, Christ has obtained a ministry which is as much more excellent than the old as the covenant he mediates is better, since it is enacted on better promises. <sup>7</sup> For if that first covenant had been faultless, there would have been no occasion for a second.

9 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world. <sup>2</sup>For there was a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein were the candlestick, and the table, and the showbread; which is called the Holy place. <sup>3</sup>And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies; <sup>4</sup>having a golden altar of incense, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was a golden pot holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant; <sup>5</sup>and above it cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak severally. <sup>6</sup>Now these things having been thus prepared, the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the services; <sup>7</sup>but into the second the high priest alone, once in the year, not without blood, which he offereth for himself, and for the errors of the people: <sup>8</sup>the Holy Spirit this signifying, that the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while the first tabernacle is yet standing; <sup>9</sup>which is a figure for the time present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices that cannot, as touching the conscience, make the worshipper perfect, <sup>10</sup>being only (with meats and drinks and divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

9 Now even the first covenant had regulations for worship and an earthly sanctuary. <sup>2</sup>For a tent was prepared, the outer one, in which were the lampstand and the table and the bread of the Presence; it is called the Holy Place. <sup>3</sup>Behind the second curtain stood a tent called the Holy of Holies, <sup>4</sup>having the golden altar of incense and the ark of the covenant covered on all sides with gold, which contained a golden urn holding the manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant; <sup>5</sup>above it were the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat. Of these things we cannot now speak in detail.

<sup>6</sup>These preparations having thus been made, the priests go continually into the outer tent, performing their ritual duties; <sup>7</sup>but into the second only the high priest goes, and he but once a year, and not without taking blood which he offers for himself and for the errors of the people. <sup>8</sup>By this the Holy Spirit indicates that the way into the sanctuary is not yet opened as long as the outer tent is still standing <sup>9</sup>(which is symbolic for the present age). According to this arrangement, gifts and sacrifices are offered which cannot perfect the conscience of the worshiper, <sup>10</sup>but deal only with food and drink and various ablutions, regulations for the body imposed until the time of reformation.

manded you." <sup>21</sup> And in the same way he sprinkled with the blood both the tent and all the vessels used in worship. <sup>22</sup> Indeed, under the law almost everything is purified with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness of sins.

<sup>23</sup> Thus it was necessary for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified with these rites, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. <sup>24</sup> For Christ has entered, not into a sanctuary made with hands, a copy of the true one, but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God on our behalf. <sup>25</sup> Nor was it to offer himself repeatedly, as the high priest enters the Holy Place yearly with blood not his own; <sup>26</sup> for then he would have had to suffer repeatedly since the foundation of the world. But as it is, he has appeared once for all at the end of the age to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. <sup>27</sup> And just as it is appointed for men to die once, and after that comes judgment, <sup>28</sup> so Christ, having been offered once to bear the sins of many, will appear a second time, not to deal with sin but to save those who are eagerly waiting for him.

10 For since the law has but a shadow of the good things to come instead of the true form of these realities, it can never, by the same sacrifices which are continually offered year after year, make perfect those who draw near. <sup>2</sup> Otherwise, would they not have ceased to be offered? should have had no more conscience of sinnes? <sup>3</sup> Nevertheless, in those sacrifices is mention made of sinnes every yeere. <sup>4</sup> For it is not possible that the blood of buls and of goates, should take away sinnes. <sup>5</sup> Wherefore when he commeth into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldst not have: but a body hast thou ordeined me. <sup>6</sup> In burnt sacrifices and offerings for sinne thou hadst no pleasure. <sup>7</sup> Then said I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is written of mee) to doe thy will, O God. <sup>8</sup> Above when hee saith, that sacrifice, and offering, and burnt offerings, and offerings for sinne thou wouldst not, neither haddest pleasure therein (which are offered by the Lawe:) <sup>9</sup> Then said he, Loe, I come to doe thy wil, O God: He taketh away the first, to stablish the second. <sup>10</sup> In the which will we are made holy, even by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all. <sup>11</sup> And every Priest standeth daiely ministring, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sinnes: <sup>12</sup> But this man, after hee hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, is set downe for ever on the right hand of God, <sup>13</sup> From henceforth taryng till his foes bee made his footestool. <sup>14</sup> For with one offering hath hee made perfect for ever them that are sanctified. <sup>15</sup> And the holy Ghost also beareth us reclonger have any consciousness of sin. <sup>3</sup> But in these sacrifices there is a reminder of sin year after year. <sup>4</sup> For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins.

<sup>5</sup> Consequently, when Christ came into the world, he said,

"Sacrifices and offerings thou hast not desired,

but a body hast thou prepared for me;

<sup>7</sup> Then I said, 'Lo, I have come to do thy will, O God,' as it is written of me in the roll of the book."

<sup>8</sup> When he said above, "Thou hast neither desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices and offerings and burnt offerings and sin offerings" (these are offered according to the law), <sup>9</sup> then he added, "Lo, I have come to do thy will." He abolishes the first in order to establish the second. <sup>10</sup> And by that will we have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

<sup>11</sup> And every priest stands daily at his service, offering repeatedly the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. <sup>12</sup> But when Christ had offered for all time a single sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God, <sup>13</sup> then to wait until his enemies should be made a stool for his feet. <sup>14</sup> For by a single offering he has perfected for all time those who are sanctified. <sup>15</sup> And the Holy Spirit also bears witness to us; for after saying,

11 And faith is, the substance of things to be hoped for, the argument of things not appearing. <sup>2</sup> For in this the old men obtained testimonie.

For he that commeth to God, must beleve that he is, and is a rewarder to them that seke him.

<sup>7</sup> By faith, Noë having received an answer concerning those things which as yet were not seen, fearing, framed the arke for the saving of his house, by the which he condemned the world: and was instituted heire of the justice which is by faith.

<sup>8</sup> By faith, he that is called, Abraham, obeyed to goe forth into the place which he was to receive for inheritance:

sons. <sup>9</sup> Besides this, we have had earthly fathers to discipline us and we respected them. Shall we not much more be subject to the Father of spirits and live? <sup>10</sup> For they disciplined us for a short time at their pleasure, but he disciplines us for our good, that we may share his holiness. <sup>11</sup> For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant; later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore lift your drooping hands and strengthen your weak knees, <sup>13</sup> and make straight paths for your feet, so that what is lame may not be put out of joint but rather be healed. <sup>14</sup> Strive for peace with all men, and for the holiness without which no one will see the Lord. <sup>15</sup> See to it that no one fail to obtain the grace of God; that no "root of bitterness" spring up and cause trouble, and by it the many become defiled; <sup>16</sup> that no one be immoral or irreligious like Esau, who sold his birthright for a single meal. <sup>17</sup> For you know that afterward, when he desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no chance to repent, though he sought it with tears.

<sup>18</sup> For you have not come to what may be touched, a blazing fire, and darkness, and gloom, and a tempest, <sup>19</sup> and the sound of a trumpet, and a voice whose words made the hearers entreat that no further messages be spoken to them.

For he hath said, I will in no case faile thee, neither forsake thee. <sup>6</sup> So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not feare what man may doe unto me. <sup>7</sup> Remember them which have the oversight of you, which have spoken unto you the word of God: whose end of conversation ye considering, follow their faith. <sup>8</sup> Jesus Christ yesterday, and to day, and the same for ever. <sup>9</sup> Bee not caried about with divers and strange doctrines: For it is a good thing that the heart bee stablished with grace, and not with meates, which have not profited them that have bene occupied therein. <sup>10</sup> We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eate, which serve in the tabernacle. <sup>11</sup> For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high Priest for sinne, are burnt without the tents. <sup>12</sup> Therefore Jesus also, that he might sanctifie the people with his owne blood, suffered without the gate. <sup>13</sup> Let us goe forth therefore unto him out of the tents, bearing his reproch. <sup>14</sup> For here have

"The Lord is my helper,
I will not be afraid;
what can man do to me?"

<sup>7</sup> Remember your leaders, those who spoke to you the word of God; consider the outcome of their life, and imitate their faith. <sup>8</sup> Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and for ever. <sup>9</sup> Do not be led away by diverse and strange teachings; for it is well that the heart be strengthened by grace, not by foods, which have not benefited their adherents. <sup>10</sup> We have an altar from which those who serve the tent have no right to eat. <sup>11</sup> For the bodies of those animals whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest as a sacrifice for sin are burned outside the camp. <sup>12</sup> So Jesus also suffered outside the gate in order to sanctify the people through his own blood. <sup>13</sup> Therefore let us go forth to him outside the camp, bearing abuse for him. <sup>14</sup> For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city which is to

Jesus Christ. <sup>6</sup> For it stands in scripture:
"Behold, I am laying in Zion a stone, a cornerstone chosen and precious, and he who believes in him will not be put to shame."
<sup>7</sup> To you therefore who believe, he is precious, but for those who do not believe,
"The very stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner," <sup>8</sup> and
"A stone that will make men stumble, a rock that will make them fall";
for they stumble because they disobey the word, as they were destined to do.
<sup>9</sup> But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, that you may declare the wonderful deeds of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light. <sup>10</sup> Once you were no people but now you are God's people; once you had not received mercy but now you have received mercy.

<sup>11</sup> Beloved, I beseech you as aliens and exiles to abstain from the passions of the flesh that wage war against your soul. <sup>12</sup> Maintain good conduct among the Gentiles, so that in case they speak against you as wrongdoers, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day of visitation.

beginning of the creation. <sup>5</sup>For this they know not (and that wilfully) howe that the heavens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water, and by the water, by the word of God: <sup>6</sup>By the which things the world that then was, perished, being then overrun with water. <sup>7</sup>But the heavens and earth, which are now, be kept by his word in store, and reserved unto fire against the day of judgement, and perdition of ungodly men. <sup>8</sup>Dearely beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, how that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day. <sup>9</sup>The Lord that hath promised, is not slack (as some men count slackenesse) but is patient to usward, forasmuch as he would have no man lost, but will receive all men to repentance. <sup>10</sup>Neverthelesse, the day of the Lorde will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heavens shal passe away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heate, the earth also, and the workes that are therein, shall be utterly burned. <sup>11</sup>Seeing then that all these things shall perish, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conversation and godlinesse, <sup>12</sup>Looking for, and hasting unto the comming of the day of God, by whome the heaven shall perish with fire, and the elements shall melt with fervent heate. <sup>13</sup>Neverthelesse, wee, according to his promise, looke for a newe heaven, and a new earth, they were from the beginning of creation." <sup>5</sup> They deliberately ignore this fact, that by the word of God heavens existed long ago, and an earth formed out of water and by means of water, <sup>6</sup> through which the world that then existed was deluged with water and perished. <sup>7</sup> But by the same word the heavens and earth that now exist have been stored up for fire, being kept until the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

<sup>8</sup> But do not ignore this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. <sup>9</sup> The Lord is not slow about his promise as some count slowness, but is forbearing toward you,<sup>h</sup> not wishing that any should perish, but that all should reach repentance. <sup>10</sup> But the day of the Lord will come like a thief, and then the heavens will pass away with a loud noise, and the elements will be dissolved with fire, and the earth and the works that are upon it will be burned up.

<sup>11</sup> Since all these things are thus to be dissolved, what sort of persons ought you to be in lives of holiness and godliness, <sup>12</sup> waiting for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be kindled and dissolved, and the elements will melt with fire! <sup>13</sup> But according to his promise we wait for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

TYNDALE (1525) 1535

The Elder unto the beloven Gayus, whom I love in the trueth. <sup>2</sup> Beloved, I wisse in all thynges that thou prosperedest and farest well even as thy soule prospereth. <sup>3</sup> I rejoyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in the, how thou walkest in trouble. <sup>4</sup> I have no greater joye then for to heare howe that my sonnes walke in veritie.

<sup>5</sup> Beloved, thou doest faythfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to straungers, <sup>6</sup> which bare witness of thy love before all the congregacion. Which brethren when thou bringest forwardes of their journey (as it besemeth god) thou shalt do well: <sup>7</sup> because that for his names sake they went forth, and toke nothyng of the Gentyls. <sup>8</sup> We therefore ought to receave soche, that we also myght be helpers to the trueth.

<sup>9</sup> I wrote unto the congregacion: but Diotrephes which loveth to have the preeminence amonge them, receaveth us not. <sup>10</sup> Wherefore yf I come, I will declare his dedes which he doeth, jestynge on us with malicious wordes, nether is therewith content. Not only he him self receaveth not the brethren: but also he forbyddeth them that wolde, and thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

RHEIMS 1582

The Senieur to Gaius the deerest, whom I love in truth.

<sup>2</sup> My deerest, concerning al thynges I make my praier that thou proceede prosperously, and fare wel, as thy soule doth prosperously. <sup>3</sup> I was exceeding glad when the brethren came, and gave testimonie to thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. <sup>4</sup> Greater thanke have I not of them, then that I may heare my children do walke in truth. <sup>5</sup> My deerest, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou workest on the brethren, and that upon strangers. <sup>6</sup> they have rendred testimonie to thy charitie in the sight of the Church: whom, thou shalt doe wel, bringing on their way in maner worthie of God. <sup>7</sup> For, for his name did they depart, taking nothing of the Gentiles. <sup>8</sup> We therefore ought to receive such: that we may be coadjutors of the truth.

<sup>9</sup> I had written perhaps to the Church: but he that loveth to beare primacie among them, Diotrephes, doth not receive us. <sup>10</sup> For this cause, if I come, I wil advertise his workes which he doeth: with malicious wordes chatting against us. and as though these thynges suffice him not: neither him self doth receive the brethren, and them that do receive, he prohibeth, and casteth out of the Church.

GREAT BIBLE (1539) 1540

The elder unto the beloved Gayus whom I love in the trueth. <sup>2</sup> Beloved I wisse in all thynges that thou prosperedest, and farest well, even as thy soule prospereth, <sup>3</sup> For I rejoyced greatly, when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in the, how thou walkest in the trueth. <sup>4</sup> I have no greater joye, then for to heare, how that my sonnes walke in veritye. <sup>5</sup> Beloved thou doest faythfully, what soever thou doest to the brethren, and to straungers, <sup>6</sup> which beare witness of thy love before the congregacyon. Which brethren if thou brynge for wardes of theyr journey (after a godly sorte) thou shalt do well: <sup>7</sup> because that for his names sake they went forth: and toke nothyng of the Gentyls. <sup>8</sup> We therefore ought to receave such, that we myght be helpers to the trueth. <sup>9</sup> I wrote unto the congregacion: but Diotrephes which loveth to have the preeminence amonge them, receaveth us not.

RSV (1946) 1960

The elder to the beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth. <sup>2</sup>Beloved, I pray that all may go well with you and that you may be in health; I know that it is well with your soul. <sup>3</sup>For I greatly rejoiced when some of the brethren arrived and testified to the truth of your life, as indeed you do follow the truth. <sup>4</sup>No greater joy can I have than this, to hear that my children follow the truth.

<sup>5</sup>Beloved, it is a loyal thing you do when you render any service to the brethren, especially to strangers, <sup>6</sup>who have testified to your love before the church. You will do well to send them on their journey as befits God's service. <sup>7</sup>For they have set out for his sake and have accepted nothing from the heathen. <sup>8</sup>So we ought to support such men, that we may be fellow workers in the truth.

<sup>9</sup>I have written something to the church; but Diotrephes, who likes to put himself first, does not acknowledge my authority. <sup>10</sup>So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, prating against me with evil words. And not content with that, he refuses himself to welcome the brethren, and also stops those who want to welcome them and puts them out of the church.

<sup>3</sup> And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he wil dwell with them, and they shall bee his people, and God himselfe shall bee with them, and be their God. <sup>4</sup> And God shal wipe away all teares from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the former things are gone. <sup>5</sup> And he that sate upon the throne, sayde, Behold, I make all things new. And he sayd unto me, Write: for these wordes are true and faithfull. <sup>6</sup> And he sayd unto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely. <sup>7</sup> He that overcommeth, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne. <sup>8</sup> But the fearefull, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. <sup>9</sup> And there came unto mee one of the seven Angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shewe thee the bride, the lambs wife. <sup>10</sup> And he caried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountaine, and shewed me that great citie, holy Hierusalem, descending out of heaven from God, <sup>11</sup> Having the glory of God: and her shining was like unto a stone most precious, even like a Jasper, cleare as

He will dwell with them, and they shall be his people,<sup>c</sup> and God himself will be with them;<sup>9</sup> <sup>4</sup> he will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning nor crying nor pain any more, for the former things have passed away."

<sup>5</sup> And he who sat upon the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new." Also he said, "Write this, for these words are trustworthy and true." <sup>6</sup> And he said to me, "It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To the thirsty I will give water without price from the fountain of the water of life. <sup>7</sup> He who conquers shall have this heritage, and I will be his God and he shall be my son. <sup>8</sup> But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the polluted, as for murderers, fornicators, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars, their lot shall be in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death."

<sup>9</sup> Then came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues, and spoke to me, saying, "Come, I will show you the Bride, the wife of the Lamb." <sup>10</sup> And in the Spirit he carried me away to a great, high mountain, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, <sup>11</sup> having the glory of God, its radiance like a most rare jewel, like a jasper,
